IMMIGRATION ADVICE AND RIGHTS CENTRE'S

THE Immigration KIT

8TH EDITION

Suhad Kamand, Rowena Irish,
Peter Bollard, Kerry Murphy,
Mark Webster

THE FEDERATION PRESS

The Immigration Kit is a comprehensive, step-by-step, plain language guide to Australia's immigration, refugee and citizenship laws which explains:

- how the system works
- who can enter or remain in Australia
- the rights and obligations of people who are unlawful
- the difference between permanent and temporary visas
- the criteria for each visa
- how to apply for a visa and what information to include
- how applications are processed
- how to challenge or appeal an immigration decision
- what to do if a visa is cancelled
- the rights and entitlements of visa holders
- who can get Australian citizenship
- where to get help

The Immigration Advice and Rights Centre (IARC)

is the only community legal centre in New South Wales specialising in the provision of non-profit advice, assistance, education, training, and law and policy reform in immigration law.

Review of previous edition:

The Immigration Kit continues to provide an accessible entry point into the complex area of migration law in Australia. It is a much valued tool ...

Law Institute Journal (Victoria) June 2005

The 8th edition of The Immigration Kit highlights court cases that shape the application of parts of migration legislation, and provides readers with a detailed contents list at the front of each chapter to assist with the easy location of information.

Since the publication of the 7th edition of The Immigration Kit in 2005 there have been significant changes to Australia's immigration and citizenship regimes including:

- new parts of the Migration Act - Parts 8B and 8C, being introduced
- an overhaul of the Australian citizenship laws including the introduction of a new Australian Citizenship Act and Regulations, changes to the residence requirements for citizenship and introduction of the citizenship test
- an overhaul of General Skilled Migration
- abolition of labour market testing for permanent employer nomination visas and introduction of gazetted occupations
- abolition of some visa subclasses including Close Ties, Family Relationship, Supported Dependent, Expatriate
- introduction of new visa subclasses including Investor Retirement Visa, Removal Pending Bridging Visa, Maritime Crew Visa
- significant changes to the criteria for some visas eg Remaining Relative Visa and visitor visas
- significant changes to Assurances of Support
- new strict compliance measures for temporary business visas
- changes to the Family Violence provisions (previously 'domestic violence')
- new criminal sanctions against employers of people without work rights
- changes to student visa conditions and cancellation processes
- changes to the detention regime including alternative forms of detention
- changes to the roles and functions of review bodies, including an expanded Ombudsman role and restrictions on judicial review
- change in detail for contacts, referrals and information sources
